With an e-bike, bicyclists can ride more often, farther, and for more trips.

Electric bicycles are designed to be as safe as traditional bicycles, do not compromise consumer safety, and benefit bicyclists who may be discouraged from riding a traditional bicycle due to limited physical fitness, age, disability or convenience.

In many states, e-bikes are regulated under antiquated laws primarily aimed at combustion engine vehicles such as mopeds or scooters. PeopleForBikes and the Bicycle Product Suppliers Association are clarifying state laws governing the use of e-bikes in the U.S. Every state’s law is different, but the objective is to ensure that low-speed e-bikes are regulated similarly to traditional, human-powered bicycles.

Pennsylvania’s E-Bike Law for the Road

- E-bikes are defined as “pedalcycles with electric assist,” so long as the e-bike’s motor is under 750w, has a maximum speed of 20mph, and has operable pedals. The same rules of the road apply to both e-bikes and human-powered bicycles.
- E-bikes are not subject to the registration, licensing or insurance requirements that apply to motor vehicles.
- Helmets are not required but the age minimum for e-bike use is 16 years. E-bikes are allowed on sidewalks but it is unclear whether they are allowed on bike paths, and restrictions may apply in the event that e-bikes are allowed on sidewalks.

Pennsylvania’s E-Bike Law for Trails

- LOCAL: Consult your local land management agency.
- STATE: According to the Pennsylvania Bureau of State Parks, e-bikes are permitted in Pennsylvania state parks and state forests where bicycles are permitted. Contact the department for the most up to date information. PeopleForBikes is monitoring this policy and will update this document as needed.
- FEDERAL: The majority of public lands managed for recreation in Pennsylvania are under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Forest Service, where eMTBs are considered motorized vehicles and have access to motorized trails. Contact the U.S. Forest Service Eastern Regional Office for more information.
